5.2. Establishment, exercise, or defence of legal claims

Where necessary, the Controller processes the Data in order to establish, exercise or defend a claim in a legal proceeding or whenever the judicial authorities exercise their judicial functions.

Legal basis of the processing: Article 6(1)(f) of the GDPR, “processing is necessary for the purposes of the legitimate interests pursued by the controller”.

Retention periods: the Data is retained for a period strictly limited to the duration of the litigation, until the expiry of the appeal enforceability terms.

6. Recipients and transfer of Data

The Data can be shared with:

1. persons authorised by the Controller to process the Data, who have received appropriate operating instructions, have committed to keep the Data confidential or are subject to an appropriate legal confidentiality obligation.
2. Persons delegated and/or designated by the Controller to carry out any tasks strictly related to the pursuing of the above-listed purposes (including technical maintenance operations on the Website), duly appointed as data processors.
3. People, companies or professional firms providing support and consulting services to the Controller, duly appointed as data processors.
4. Persons, bodies or authorities to which Data must be communicated pursuant to law provisions or orders issued by the competent authorities.

The Data is managed and stored on servers owned by the Controller and/or by third-party companies appointed as data processors.

Some of the Data are shared with recipients that could be based outside the European Economic Area. Ferretti assures that the processing of the Data is carried out by the recipients in compliance with the GDPR. Transfers can be based on an adequacy decision, on the Standard Contractual Clauses approved by the European Commissions or on other appropriate legal grounds. For further information please contact the Controller, by sending an email to the address privacy@ferrettigroup.com.

7. Rights of the data subjects

Consistently with the provisions contained in the GDPR, you have the right to request from the Controller, at any time, the access to your Data, as well as its rectification or erasure, in addition to the right to object to its processing. The law also allows you, in the cases provided for by art. 18 of the GDPR, to obtain the limitation of the processing, as well as, in the cases provided for by art. 20 of the GDPR, to receive your Data in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format.

Requests can be sent to the email address: privacy@ferrettigroup.com.

Finally remember that pursuant to art. 77 of the GDPR you always have the right to lodge a complaint with the competent control authority (Italian Data Protection Authority), if you consider that the processing of your Data infringes the GDPR.
